Measurements and Sizing

In order to ensure the best possible fit, we highly recommend measurements be taken by one of our showroom sales representatives. If you are unable to come into a Jenny Yoo showroom to be sized, a professional tailor/seamstress can provide the service. This is an important part of the order process; accurate measurements will enable you to select the size that will give you the best fit. If you are unable to get measured professionally, please follow these guidelines using a soft measuring tape. Make sure to keep the tape snug but not tight when measuring. Also, make sure to always measure over your undergarments for the most accurate fit.

Bust: Measure around the bust and back at the fullest part of your bust.

Waist: Measure around your natural waist (the narrowest part of your waist, not where you pants sit). Do not suck in! If you plan on losing weight we still recommend ordering the size you are falling into currently, the dresses can always be taken in.

Hips: Measure 8" down from your natural waist, at the fullest part of your hip.

After you have completed your measurements, refer to the size chart below and decide which size you fit into best. Keep in mind that your usual dress size may vary from the size you choose at Jenny Yoo Collection. If your measurements fall between two sizes, we strongly recommend selecting the larger size. It is always easier to take a garment in than letting it out when doing alterations. Please remember that we do not provide alteration services. Our size charts reflect body measurements, not garment measurements. The dresses are made-to-order using standard industry sizes; they are not custom-made to your specific size.

Please keep in mind, we do not provide alteration services. Our dresses are made-to-order using standard industry sizes. They are not custom-made to your specific size. However, if you need alterations, they must be adjusted after you receive your dress by a seamstress or tailor of your choice. We are not responsible for any alterations made after you receive the garment from us.

If you have any questions, please call us at 212.645.0823 and we'll be happy to assist you in any way we can.
